Something we don't want as those who try to get ahead without relying on the state are continually taxed more. The problem here is that this additional tax is directed at the people who actually create employment and jobs for the economy.

All those with rental properties provide accommodation that would otherwise have to be provided by government who clearly can not afford it. So why keep on penalising people who invest in property, shares etc. Also why should Maori be treated differently?, the so called businesses they own only benefit those who are running them. I don't see Maori giving the wealth back to their people? It's just another unfair tax
